The complete gas safety service
for Social Landlords

A promise from CORGI at a time you need it most.

These are challenging times for a Social Landlord.

Gas safety is of paramount importance, yet how do you reconcile the need to make savings in the face of cutbacks whilst at the same time meeting all the compliance regulations and legal requirements in place today?

To compound the problem, restructuring and scaling back can result in a loss of expertise in this crucial area.

Here at CORGI we understand the dilemma you face. We work with many social landlords to deliver the most effective solutions.

We offer you more.

More expertise. More services. More support. More peace of mind. More value for money. More innovation. More know-how.

We provide a specialist and skilled gas safety management service that takes away the pain, matches your needs and budget, and makes the whole area of gas management so much simpler.

We work closely with you to help oversee, manage and control gas safety effectively. Most of all, we help you reduce costs by providing the very best controls, procedures, information and support that only 30 years of experience can provide.

More expertise. With CORGI you are fully compliant.

We've been providing the highest levels of technical expertise for 30 years. With CORGI, compliance becomes straightforward and cost effective and our CORGI Management Audit assesses and improves your performance reducing the likelihood of serious incidents and your potential liabilities.

More support.*We train your employees in gas safety.

We want to realise the potential of your people so that they have a better understanding of gas safety. Our online training makes it easier for your employees to gain the knowledge and skills they require. Our VRQ qualification is an industry first, recognising gas safety management skills and our seminars continue to raise awareness of gas safety issues so people have a better understand of potential risks.

More peace of mind.*Our comprehensive on site audits.

When CORGI carry out our onsite audits we aim to measure performance against the policies and procedures you have established. The information we pass back to you also acknowledges the wider gas safety environment. Our approach is to work with all parties to improve standards and we achieve this with constructive feedback and open discussion.

More value for money.*A bespoke service for your budget.

We pride ourselves on delivering a first class service that is tailored to meet the needs of our customers. Over the years we have developed strong working relationships with a variety of clients including many local authorities, housing associations, private landlords, contractors and energy suppliers, supporting them with their gas safety obligations and continued improvement.

More innovation.*Better ways to serve you.

We're always looking for new ways to serve our customers and add value. Our new VRQ qualification and the new partnership with ECA to cover electrical requirements demonstrate this. We are continuing to broaden our online training, we use the very latest computer technology when making our assessments and we keep ourselves abreast of industry news, regulation and developments.

More know-how.*Only CORGI can offer this level of experience and expertise.

CORGI is the name that people trust. When they need advice on any aspect of gas safety – from technical to legal – they ask CORGI. When there are serious incidents to be investigated or expert witness testimony is required, inevitably it's CORGI they speak to first.

More than gas.*Partnering to cover electrical services.

The Electrical Contractors Association (ECA) and CORGI have formed a partnership to bring you the very best quality services across a broader scope. So as well as all the best in gas, we can offer you the best in electrical quality control, incident investigation, policy development and other electrical services. Providing a quality of delivery you can rely on, from two leading brands.
